

Life is a journey Andrew McCrea

Andrew McCrea has extensive experience in the field of education, both from a teacher/administrator and student perspective. His humorous yet practical style captivates audiences and leaves them with a message they can put into practice immediately.

Andrew understands the keys to building a successful school from a teacher's and administrator's perspective. He and his family have a broad background in education. He addresses numerous state and regional teacher and administrator meetings. He is known for his fun yet down-to-earth presentations that motivate and inspire.

“Ordinary to Extraordinary: The Three Keys to Positive Results in the Classroom”

Have you wondered what helps some people reach success time and time again, while others seem to stand in place. Research tells us that the most important factors in success are things so insignificant they are often overlooked. Let Andrew help you find the qualities that produce extraordinary results

How to Become a “Crazy” Teacher Without Going Crazy

Andrew shares insights into what teacher and administrators can do to build an environment that promotes learning and achievement. You don't have to be “crazy” to connect with students, you just need to see how a couple of vital skills promote learning for life.

Adding Life and Learning to the Classroom

We don't need gimmicks to help students learn. In fact, you can use these proven ways to better connect students with their curriculum to increase learning in the classroom.

Andrew McCrea • 5650 Berlin Rd. • Maysville, MO 64469
1-888-622-7321 • 816-449-2155

Visit Andrew's Website at...www.andrewmccrea.com • Email...andrew@andrewmccrea.com

