Andrew McCrea

“Nationally Syndicated Radio Host, Popular Author, Oscar Winning Broadcaster, Dynamic Speaker and Trainer...”

It’s been said, “Life is a Journey.” Andrew McCrea helps people make the most of the trip! Audiences as large as 10,000 people have heard Andrew’s messages in 49 states. These messages of inspiration and humor are sure to motivate your group.

Andrew McCrea’s work embodies “the journey.” As host of the award-winning nationally syndicated radio feature, “American Countryside” he travels on location to conduct the interviews for all 260 annual shows. He has interviewed hundreds of guests...Emmy and Grammy winners, Hall of Fame athletes...even the nation’s rooster crowing champion! He’s raced stock cars, traveled to NASA’s launch pads and even been body slammed by professional wrestlers to track down a story. He has won five Oscars in Agricultural and Rural Reporting.

His journeys include being a guest in the Oval Office to addressing groups in Tokyo, and covering broadcast assignments on four continents. Yet, his roots are still firmly planted on the family farm where he grew up. These unique experiences allow Andrew to craft inspirational messages full of pictures, sounds, humor and great ideas that can be used immediately.

He is the author of four books...
“American Countryside: Where Does Lost Luggage Go?, The Man Who Was President For a Day, God’s Perfect View, and Making Molehills out of Mountains”. These books contain entertaining and enlightening real-life stories that provide insights on leadership and life itself.
